“Celebrating a Century of Romanian Veterinary Parasitology”

Invitation

It is our great pleasure to announce you that the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine of Bucharest celebrates this year a Century of Veterinary Parasitology in the Academic Veterinary Medicine in Romania.

The moment of the institutionalization of the Parasitology discipline in the Romanian higher education is an important milestone in the history of veterinary medicine in our country.

To honor this moment, the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine of Bucharest shall organize, on November 21-22, 2019, the Anniversary Symposium with International Participation

“A Century of Romanian Veterinary Parasitology”.

This event - addressed to national and international scientists - will highlight the outstanding moments of the discipline's history and emphasize on the main Romanian scientific contributions over time, the present achievements and research interests, as well as the most important challenges in the field of Veterinary Parasitology.

We invite you to celebrate together with us the joy of this special event of our passionate profession!

On behalf of the organizing committee,

Prof. Gabriel PREDOI

Dean

Faculty of Veterinary Medicine

Prof. Ioan Liviu MITREA

Head of Department
