

Legislation in veterinary medicine

STRUCTURE

Study program	Veterinary Medicine
Year of study	VI
Semester	I
Type of discipline	Compulsory discipline
Total number of hours / week	Course – 1hour; PW 1hour
Total number of hours according to curriculum	Course – 14 hourse; PW 14 hourse
ECTS	3

DISCIPLINE OBJECTIVES

The acquisition by students of the introductory notions of the general theory of law, of veterinary medical deontology and the knowledge of the main rules, regulations and directives in the veterinary field, established at national level, by international bodies and the European Union, in order to complete the knowledge necessary for the practice of veterinary medicine and the realization of a necessary competence in the field of "veterinary economy".

DISCIPLINE CONTENT

COURSE	Nr. ore
Chapter 1. Place and role of veterinary legislation.	0,5h
Chapter 2. Getting Started on the general theory of law  State. Right. Rule of law. Therulesofsociety. Non-legalsocial norms. Legal norm. Actionnormative actsintime, space andthepeople. Sources of. Lawandothernormativelegal acts. Othersources of law. Topicsoflegal relationship.Principles andstages ofdrafting normative acts. The right ofthecompetent authorities. Formsof interpretationof law.Spirit andletter of the law. Abuseand fraudasthelaw. Legal liability.	5h
Chapter 3. European Community directives and regulations in the veterinary field.  The harmonization of veterinary legislation. Brief history of community building The main European institutions Sources of law: -Originating sources (primary) -Secondary sources (derived) – Regulation, Directive and Decision	4h
Chapter 4. Achieving milestones accession processto the European Union. Progresshealthcareveterinarianafterapproximation and implementation ofCommunitylegislation	0,5h
Chapter 5. International organizationsveterinary oranimal components that: the EU, the World Organizationfor Animal Health, World Health Organization, FAO, Codex Alimentarius, EFSA LandCodeof the World Organizationfor Animal Health-General, definitions, ethics veterinarycertification. Manual of Standardsfor Diagnostic TestsandVaccines, OIElistof diseasesin animals. Acceptance by RomaniatotheACODjoiningthe World Trade Organization(WTO). SPSAgreement.	4h

PRACTICAL WORK PW	Nr. ore
1. Organization of veterinary services	2h
2. Identification of the animals	2h

3. General and specific measures to prevent and control infectious and contagious and parasitic diseases in animals	2h
1. General measures for prevention and control of animal diseases
2. Special measures to prevent and control animal diseases. Provision of compensation for animals
4. Animal waste regime	2h
5. Hygiene and Public health	2h
1. General Issues
2. Sanitary regulations for food
3. Drinking water quality
4. Organic food products
5. Manufacturing License
6. Veterinary and food safety authorizations	2h
7. The legal regime of contraventions	2h

BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. Gonciarov Magda (2011)-Laws veterinary and food safety, Ed Printech
2. Gonciarov Magda (2012)-Elements, concepts and veterinary norms. Ed Printech.
3. Gonciarov Magda (2020)- Legislation in veterinary medicine. International organism issuing regulations in veterinary health and food safety. Ed Printech.

EVALUATION

Type of activity	Evaluation criteria	Method of evaluation	Percentage of final grade %
Course	Assimilation of the theoretic notions. Participation course	Grid examination	70%
PW	Assimilation of the practical notions. Active participation in discussions after the lecture and after covering laboratory material.	Interactive practical exam, and the final grade is Pass/Fail.	30%
Other activities	The final evaluation is conditioned by the attestation of the acquisition of the competencies by completing and signing the student's logbook by the student and by the teaching staff.

Course teaching staff: Lecturer Dr. Magdalena Gonciarov

Practical work teaching staff PW: Dr. Silvia Antoniu